How long, O Lord? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me? (Psalm 13:1) The canonical songbook is full of raw poetry — more raw and blunt than many of us are, even when confiding our pain to a trusted friend. And these were congregational songs! The people of Israel were to sing them together.

In verse 1, David cried out, “How long, O Lord? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me?” David felt abandoned by God. He had no sense of God’s presence in his life. His soul had no connection to God. One of the most remarkable biographies of a Christian that I have ever read is that of David Brainerd.
