The historicity of King Arthur has been debated both by academics and popular writers. While there have been many suggestions that Arthur was a real historical person, academic historians today consider King Arthur to be a mythological or folkloric figure.. The first mention of Arthur appears in 829, where he is presented as a leader fighting against the invading Saxons in 5th- to 6th-century ...

Paul did not write his letter to the Romans primarily out of doctrinal concerns. Paul B. Fowler argues that rhetorical questions in Romans 3-11 structure the argument, not as responses to criticism, but as Paul's careful guiding of the reader, and that these chapters, like the paraenesis in Romans 12-15, address specific circumstances in Rome- tensions between Jew and Gentile that aggravate ...
